

2007 scholarship recipients (not all recipients are pictured)

Chattanooga's Ronald McDonald House Charities Awards $40,000 in Scholarships to Area High Schools' Students

Chattanooga, Tenn. --- Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC) of Greater Chattanooga has awarded 40 local students college scholarships, totaling $40,000, for the 2007-2008 academic school year. Each student received a $1,000 scholarship from the program. The winning students were recognized at a luncheon held in June at the Brainerd United Methodist Church.

The scholarship recipients listed with their respective schools of choice are: Kara Bennett – Auburn University, Anthony Blevins – Chattanooga State Technical Community College, Hollie Burrage – University of Georgia, DeMario Butts - Morehouse , Sing Chau- Georgia Tech, Yong Choi – University of Georgia, Brittany Collins – Lee University, Kimberly Creel – Bryan College, Megan Douglas – Chattanooga State Technical Community College, Eric Gant- Auburn University, Aleena Gillani – Notre Dame, Tiffani Greco – Northeast Community College, Hilary Halpin – University of Georgia, Diana Hernandez – Dalton State, Robin Hardin – Spelman College, Patricia Herrera – University of Georgia, Jessica Huffman – Vanderbilt, Chelsea Johnson – University of Tennessee (Knoxville), Logan Killen – Lee University, Tatiana Laguer - University of Tennessee (Knoxville) , Alice Lee – Georgia State, Yuliana Lopez – Berry College, Nadine Martin – Spelman College, Brittany McClain – University of Tennessee (Knoxville) , William McClain – Embry Riddle Aeronautics, Geoffrey Millener – Williams, Adam Morris – University of Mobile, Latosha Powell – Tennessee State University, Hannan Qureshi – Northwestern, Sunny Rollings – Kennesaw State, Chelsea Schott – Emory University, Tra'Nika Shaw – University of Tennessee (Knoxville) , Blakley Sibley – Shorter, Amber Singleton – Sewanee, Pooja Soni – University of Georgia, Kayla Tripp – Kennesaw State, , Cara Vandergriff – Middle Tennessee State University, Hitesh Vashi – University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, Cara Vreeland – LaGrange College, Courtney Wallin – Dalton State.

Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC) National Scholarship Program provides assistance to area high schools' seniors who may need an extra hand in fulfilling their college dream. These scholarships are part of RMHC's dedication to providing education to students with limited access and means to make their goals a reality. All scholarships are awarded based on academic achievement, financial need and community service.

Area McDonald's Restaurants and RMHC Global donate all funds for the scholarship program. Since the program began in 2000, Chattanooga's Ronald McDonald House Charities Scholarship Program has awarded more than $200,000 to freshmen year students.

