

2007 Hall of Fame Winners

Shelda Rees: Shelda Rees first became involved with Ronald McDonald House as an Alpha Delta Pi in college. Her love for serving others extended to the Chattanooga House when it opened in 1990. For 16 years, Shelda has been working the evening shift on the first Tuesday of every month and encouraging others to follow her lead. For the past 5 years, Shelda has served as a very important member of the It's A Rockin' Auction Acquisition Team. Shelda's "real job" with the Chattanooga Convention & Visitors Bureau gives her great contact with the tourist industry and she has acquired thousands of dollars worth of auction items to help make this event an annual success. Every non-profit needs a Shelda!

(Jane Kaylor, Ed Morgan, Jan Morgan, Bill Moore)

Jan and Eddie Morgan: Jan and Eddie Morgan have also been involved with the Ronald McDonald House since it opened in 1990 starting out as special event volunteers then becoming weekend managers. At every special event, you can guarantee that they will be behind the scenes doing any job that's needed and when they work a weekend at the Ronald McDonald House, all the household chores will be done when the staff arrives on Monday. They are a dynamic duo for whom no job is too big or too small. At the heart of their volunteerism is a love for children and families and a compassion for their fellow man that is unequalled. This award honors their deep commitment to our organization.

(Jane Kaylor, Amber Meadows, Diane Meadows, Chanel Meadows, Bill Moore)

Diane Meadows and daughters Amber, Chanel and Simone: As a parent we are charged with teaching our children so many things that the mind can hardly comprehend our ability to do so. Diane Meadows has chosen to teach her children the joy of giving back to the community in which they live by volunteering with them at the Ronald McDonald House and in the Ronald McDonald Family Room inside T. C. Thompson Children's Hospital and she has done so since 2001. The girls have not just "tagged along" with Mom but have been taught how to do all the tasks required of an adult volunteer. Amber is now in college and Chanel will join her in the fall, but the Meadows family is definitely one that believes in giving back. Not only do they work in both locations, Diane and the girls work at all the fund raising events. This is a family extraordinary' and we are so fortunate that they love Ronald McDonald House!
